

The Fine Art of Successful Speaking

Turn your next speech into a masterpiece that your listeners will remember

Build your confidence

Mediocre first impression . . . no objective . . . lack of enthusiasm . . . sweaty palms . . . These are some of the common pitfalls that plague speakers. No matter where you are on the corporate ladder, confident speaking skills will get you noticed—maybe even promoted. Equally important, improving your speaking skills enables you to bring more value to your listeners. When you win, your audience wins too.

Who should attend

This program is designed for all individuals who engage in face-to-face conversation—speeches, presentations, meetings—who want to enhance their speaking skills and gain increased self-esteem, confidence, and credibility.

What you will learn

Maybe you need to introduce a speaker, give a prepared speech, or deliver a sales talk . . . if you are like most of us, you want to present a terrific speech with confidence. In this program you will take a tour through our speaker's art gallery and discover ways to enhance your:

- ◆ content preparation and timing
- ◆ rapport with your audience
- ◆ energy and enthusiasm
- ◆ vocal expression, volume, and pace
- ◆ body language, posture, gestures, and eye contact
- ◆ visual aids/slides
- ◆ use of humor, and more

Program format

The Fine Art of Successful Speaking is an interactive workshop where participants examine a work of art and explore how it relates to speaking skills. Participants complete short exercises and an action plan for putting "best practices" to work.

One-on-one speaker coaching is also available.
